From Ken Hames

Hello and thank you for showing interest in our 2013 Farscape Overseas Learning Experience to Kenya. We've set up this Experience because we want to inspire you to go on a personal journey that will help you to reflect on your personal objectives, learn from other business leaders and share best practice – all in an amazing location.

My name is Ken Hames and I lead Farscape's team of facilitators. I ensure that our team are highly trained to look after your safety and oversee your personal development on your journey. I have completed over 20 overseas expeditions to mountains, forests and deserts around the globe and I am passionate about giving people the opportunity to achieve extraordinary things. Over the last 4 years I have led 3 expeditions with people with disability, which has been televised in the BBC2 'Beyond Boundaries' series. When not working on expeditions and documentaries I deliver motivational talks and training to businesses. Previously I served for 25 years as an Army Officer and was part of the Special Air Service.

I am incredibly excited about this pioneering Overseas Learning Experience to Kenya. During the ten-day journey into the northern frontier district of this incredible country you will be immersed in one of the world's last great wildernesses, traversing some of the wildest terrains on the planet. This country is famed for its wild animals; from its majestic elephants and giraffes, to mighty lions and the zebra and gazelle which they hunt and feed on.

It is on this unique journey that you will meet and work alongside experienced and inspirational business leaders; share knowledge and experiences and begin to unpack the personal, team and high performance issues that reveal themselves as you negotiate unfamiliar terrain and situations. Your Farscape leader and facilitator will be the driving force behind the Experience but you, together with your fellow participants, will drive the outcomes.

The Farscape Overseas Learning Experience will give you the chance to re-energise, review your behaviours and motivate yourself through reflection and discussion, away from your workplace and in an environment where decisions have real and immediate consequences. This is your chance to have a life-changing experience that will remind you of what your personal values are and what drives you; and how you can use them to improve work and home-life.

I guarantee that you will not be disappointed in either the location or the experience. In the wilderness - away from the bustle of everyday life - you have the space to think, and you'll arrive at a place where powerful instinct replaces tired processes.

In the following pages you'll find more information on the itinerary, Kenya and Farscape Development. If you would like to chat about any aspect of the Overseas Learning Experience, please feel free to contact my colleague Ruth Moody at Farscape Development on 0117 370 1801 or email ruth@farscapedevelopment.co.uk.

I hope you can join us.

To be successful it's important to know what motivates and inspires high performance in you and others. This Overseas Learning Experience is for high potential employees and new managers who know that people are at the heart of a successful organisation, and who value the importance of personal development.

If you are an individual in business, or you are responsible for finding training opportunities for senior management or promising staff, you may not know how a Farscape Overseas Learning Experience can bring about a return on investment. If this is the case, please read on! We are also happy to talk you through the benefits compared with more traditional training initiatives. ## 3. Why join an Overseas Learning Experience?

As dynamic and ambitious employees you'll be full of energy and enthusiasm for your work; you'll always be looking for ways to excel and you'll know how important it is to build trust and respect with the people around you. However it's all too easy to get lost in everyday processes and forget about the importance of relationships in being successful. This Experience is about stretching and inspiring you so that you can reach your goals faster and inspire great things in others.

At Farscape we believe that the best way to develop high performance is by taking individuals out of their comfort zones into more unfamiliar and dynamic environments. It's also an opportunity to reconnect with your instincts as you respond to the landscape and the people in Kenya.

An Overseas Learning Experience in a wilderness environment provides the perfect medium to explore areas that are personal to you and that will make a difference to your life. As a result the Experience is combined with facilitated discussions, reflection time and coaching to help you get the most from your time away.

Here are just some of the ways that you can benefit from a Farscape Overseas Learning Experience in an increasingly challenging market-place:

- Reflect on your behaviour with the help of a coach and other high calibre delegates and recognise what you do well, and where you can improve
- Refresh and re-energise yourself and take back new ideas and enthusiasm
- Review your past experiences and identify personal and professional actions that you would like to take

Why are these things important?

- So that you feel calmer, more confident and focused, and that you are moving towards your professional goals whilst still devoting the time that you want and need to your personal life

Farscape are currently working with a number of high-profile companies such as Norwich Union, Allianz, Sir Robert McAlpine, Airbus and Stena Drilling, and you can read our success stories at: www.farscapedevelopment.co.uk. ## 4. Your destination and itinerary

Farscape Overseas Learning Experience – Kenya 2013 26th January – 5th February 2013.

Kenya is an extremely emotive and vibrant country with fascinating people and landscapes. Your Learning Experience offers you opportunities to spend time in a rugged, dynamic and truly wild region; trekking with camels to carry equipment, with the opportunity to interact with native tribal communities. The Experience will be focused in the Northern Frontier District of Kenya; a region which provides the basis for a culture accustomed to nomadic pastoralism and which is populated historically by ethnic Somalis. The "Big Five" animals of Africa can also be found in Kenya: the lion, leopard, buffalo, rhinoceros and elephant. A diverse population of other wild animals, reptiles and birds can be found freely roaming in this beautiful country and the overall backdrop to the journey will be rich with the wonders of nature.

In this extreme landscape the team will quickly be immersed in an unknown and fragile environment. Within twenty-four hours of leaving the UK, you will be at your first camp, preparing your first meal over a camp-fire before sleeping beneath the stars.

You will be presented with once-in-a-lifetime opportunities to see the magnificent wild animals of Africa, in a wilderness where life for the local people maintains a challenging and close relationship with nature. On this trip there will be a strong ethos of discovery; not just of an unfamiliar country but of mind, body and soul. In a landscape of extreme contrast and diversity, you will quickly appreciate the importance of high performance teamwork in difficult situations. You will have to find a way to lead your team through a tough terrain in soaring temperatures, with the possibility of encountering wild animals. The group will be accompanied by an expert facilitator who will be on hand to provide one to one support, guidance and coaching, which will relate your experiences in Africa back to the workplace.

Whilst trekking you will build strong bonds with fellow team-members and the trip provides plenty of opportunities for scenic stops with picturesque surroundings. Communication and interpersonal skills will be crucial as participants will have to liaise with local people and tribes in order to learn the survival skills and bush craft necessary to inhabit this rugged terrain. Water will be a vital consideration and the group will undertake all of the responsibility for organising their provisions en route. Camels will be provided to carry all of the group's equipment and a guide will support the group in the management of these animals.

These experiences are memorable and life changing and actively engage you to drive forward the business you will be returning to. Over the course of your trek across the mountains and plains of East Africa, you will have the opportunity to reassess your own values and priorities and will be able to return to your company with a refreshed outlook on work and life.

Wherever you are throughout the journey, your nights will be spent around the campfire with the sounds of Africa all around you. Kenya is a beautiful country and your Farscape Experience will take you truly into the wilderness where you can reflect on the stresses of everyday life; start to feel inspired and reconnect with what is important to you.

The itinerary will be finalised in conjunction with your Farscape Learning Experience team and leader during your pre-departure training. The journey will be shaped and moulded by you, and decisions about direction and duration will be made within the team. Where possible we will provide a number of options and guidelines for you to discuss in order to help you make your final decision.

Personal Development during your Overseas Learning Experience

This Experience will involve a small group of up to 12 team members, a Farscape leader and an expert facilitator.

This is not a holiday. The Experience will be demanding, both physically and mentally and you will camp out for the majority of nights.

As you trek across the remote plains of East Africa, you will embark upon a powerful and emotional journey. Although the destination may sound idyllic, the purpose of your journey is to give you the space and time to reflect, learn from others and re-connect with your personal values and what drives you. As such you are likely to reach profound conclusions about changes that you want to make in both your personal and professional lives. In these environments, self-leadership and the art of supporting, following and motivating others will all be crucial to your success. Personal learning logs, one to one coaching both during and after the journey, mentoring and facilitated feedback will shape your experiences.

We provide a full 10 day itinerary, which is circulated to delegates prior to the Experience, along with a handbook, kit-list, your insurance documents and health and safety advice. We also schedule a training course in Herefordshire at a convenient time prior to departure.
